Purpose of the Collection: To support the curricular and research needs of faculty and students in the School of Accountancy. The School offers courses of study leading to the Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration in Accounting; Master of Science in Information Systems Audit and Control; Master of Professional Accountancy; Master of Taxation; Master of Business Administration in Accounting; and Ph.D. in Accountancy. Areas of focus at the master’s level include forensic accounting, international accounting, IT auditing, internal auditing, and taxation.

General Collection Guidelines:

a. Languages: English is the primary language of the collection.

b. Chronological Guidelines: Emphasis is on current research. There is a strong interest in historic accounting materials, when available.

c. Geographical Guidelines: The United States is of primary interest.

d. Date of Publication: Current imprints are of primary interest.

e. Types of Materials: Periodicals are of primary interest; monographs are of some importance. Electronic resources are of extreme importance for graduate level study and application of accounting skills.

f. Treatment of the Subject: Emphasis is on scholarly research materials. Textbooks, handbooks, and statistical materials are selectively collected.

Related Collection Development Policies:

- Computer Information Systems
- Economics
- Finance
- Management
- Mathematics
- Risk Management and Insurance

Revised: 08/2017