

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY CLASSROOM USE POLICY

Library classrooms are designated for the delivery of instruction by library personnel. Library instruction and training sessions have priority over all other uses.

At certain times during the semester, when no library instruction or training sessions have been scheduled, library classrooms may be made available to Georgia State University students as overflow spaces. In these cases, students will be required to vacate the classroom 15 minutes prior to the start of a scheduled classroom session.

While library instruction and training take priority, the library will consider requests from other university units or departments wishing to use its classrooms on a case-by-case basis. For more information contact ask@gsu.libanswers.com or 404-413-2800.
